Penpack* understands that consumer brands are searching for sustainable packaging solutions. The ability to reduce the overall weight of traditional clamshells, while maintaining appearance, function and branding is key to achieving this goal. Introducing Peninsula Packaging's [Penpack] range of top seal produce trays and bowls, designed and proven to work with high quality PET films. All products are made in the USA using food safe and approved PET. At Penpack* we are proud of our commitment to sustainability and our record as one of the largest users of recycled bottle flake in North America.
